Dear Panel

Derogation in respect of electricity TRAS implementation date – first derogation update

Eneco Energy Trade (EET, a company wholly owned by Eneco Holding BV) is a supplier of a small number of large business customers in the UK. On the basis of being a small supplier, not supplying domestic customers and supplying industrial premises with a lower likelihood of electricity theft, we have been seeking a permanent derogation from the need to deliver supply point data to the TRAS. This has not been forthcoming, however, a derogation under TRAS Schedule 25 was granted to EET in October 2016 until June 2017.

In our derogation application, EET agreed to deliver a data transfer solution or outsourcing arrangement by June 2017. I can update the DCUSA Panel today that EET has agreed commercial terms with a third party company who will deliver the TRAS files and we are aiming to test our first data upload and submission via the Experian Portal by 1st April 2017. This timeline allows for us to make improvements to the quality of the data file should improvements be necessary and hit the target of 30 June 2017.

For further information, EET has currently billed all of its customers to the end of November (we are in the billing process for delivery month December 2016) and we are not aware of any theft issues.

If you have any further questions, then please do not hesitate to contact me.
